

An injury or illness shouldn't disable your income.

That's why your employer provides Long Term Disability Insurance for you.

Savings aren't always enough.

Dave is an office manager for an accounting firm. On weekends, he does a lot of work on his house and yard. If he has a serious accident at home and is unable to work, he doesn't want his savings to dwindle or his family to suffer financially while he recuperates.

Disability benefits to help you maintain your lifestyle

Unum's Long Term Disability Insurance can pay you a percentage of your gross monthly earnings (up to the maximum allowed by your plan) if you become ill or injured and can't work for an extended period. It can help you pay your bills and protect your finances at a time when you have extra medical costs but don't get a paycheck.

What's next

Extra features that add value:

Survivor benefit

Unum will pay your eligible survivor a lump-sum benefit equal to three months of your gross disability payment. It will be paid if, on the date of your death, your disability had continued for 180 or more consecutive days, and you were receiving or were entitled to receive payments under the plan.

Accelerated (early) survivor benefit

You may receive your survivor benefit prior to your death if you have been diagnosed as terminally ill, your life expectancy has been reduced to less than 12 months, and you are receiving monthly payments.

Rehabilitation and return-to-work assistance

If you are deemed eligible and are participating in the program, Unum will pay an additional benefit of 10% of your gross disability payment to a maximum of $1,000 per month.

What are these?

Benefit period and elimination period

Benefit period — If you become disabled, this is the maximum amount of time you can receive benefits for a covered disability.

Elimination period — This is the number of days that must pass between your first day of a covered disability and the day you can begin to receive your disability benefits.
